

BIOTECHNOLOGY WORKFORCE COLLABORATIVE

ASSOCIATE OF SCIENCE
ALLEGHENY CAMPUS

Do you want a career
in science with a bright future?

Learn how to become a biotechnology lab
technician at CCAC—for free!

Through a National Science Foundation (NSF) Scholarship in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (S-STEM) grant, CCAC is offering scholarships in the Biotechnology Workforce Collaborative (BWC), a partnership with Allegheny General Hospital's Allegheny-Singer Research Institute (ASRI), the Pittsburgh Tissue Engineering Initiative (PTEI) and the North Side Leadership Conference (NSLC).

CCAC Nondiscrimination Policy

The college does not discriminate based upon race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry or place of birth, sex, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, familial status, veteran status, age or use of a guide or support animal because of blindness, deafness or physical disability of any individual. Questions may be emailed to diversity@ccac.edu.

Created by the CCAC Marketing and Communications department.

Biotech Community-FSP2-POD-JM-FEB10

Have you ever wanted to go back to school? CCAC is accepting applications for scholarship in the Biotechnology Workforce Collaborative

The Biotechnology Workforce Collaborative (BWC) is an associate's degree program that offers:

- an eight-week bridge program to prepare you for coursework;
- a two-semester learning community where you will create study supports and build lasting friendships with fellow students and caring faculty and staff;
- a mentor and internships in the labs of the Allegheny-Singer Research Institute and the Pittsburgh Tissue Engineering Initiative; and
- job placement assistance as you prepare to graduate.

What does the scholarship cover & where is the program offered?

Scholarships will cover tuition, fees, books and supplies. The program is offered at CCAC's Allegheny campus on the North Shore.

How can I learn more & where can I apply?

For further information on application deadlines and start dates, contact the dean of Academic Affairs at 412.237.2540 or email atodd@ccac.edu. A screener will ask some questions to determine eligibility for the scholarship. Applicants will be contacted for a telephone interview with one of the program staff.

www.ccac.edu

