A Life Dedicated to Serving His Community

When Jim Brewster ('69) was 16 years old, a serious motorcycle accident resulted in the news that he wouldn't walk again. Jim, however, had other plans. From student athlete to corporate vice president, mayor of McKeesport to Pennsylvania State Senator, Brewster could not be so easily stopped—and it all began at CCAC.

After graduating from McKeesport High School's Vo-Tech program in 1966, Jim attended college for a semester at Point Park College but left after he decided the cost of tuition was too high. After considering his options, he enrolled at CCAC—South Campus in the fall of 1967. He chose CCAC initially because he liked the location. It was close to home and close to public transportation. What he found he liked even more was that it had a great atmosphere and was a very comfortable and positive environment: a place where he knew everyone, and they knew him, a place where he was connected and could grow.

At South Campus, Jim was one of the founding members of the Cross Country and Track programs. He says the Cross Country team was very good, and they had good years while he was there, which brought positive attention to the still-young CCAC. His coach, Tom Wilson, and the athletic director Cal Sheffield, both helped to perpetuate that feeling of connectedness that had become so important to him. Jim previously had very little guidance and limited academic background to ease the college transition, but at CCAC, he was able to develop the discipline to succeed at a four-year institution.

After graduating from CCAC in 1969, Jim transferred to California University of Pennsylvania. CalU accepted all of his CCAC credits and he graduated with a degree in Education. Brewster credits the help of the great coaches like Wilson and Sheffield; teachers like his Math instructor, Dr. Allan Bluman; the small class size; and personal attention as large contributors to his eventual success.

He wonders, “What would have happened to me had I not had CCAC?”

Jim went on to work for Mellon Financial Corporation for many years, first as a fraud investigator and eventually working his way up to vice president of Operations. In 1995 he also became a McKeesport city councilman, and served as council president for seven years before he was elected mayor in 2004.

He says the people of McKeesport are not motivated by money—rather it is a “work hard and pay for yourself and your own way” kind of community. With Wilson, he helped design the track in Renziehausen Park in McKeesport, and during his years as mayor he helped to develop the Palisades, McKeensport Point Marina and Greater Allegheny Passage Trail at the Waterfront. He was elected to both the McKeensport Area School District Hall of Fame and the McKeensport Athletic Hall of Fame in 2009. In 2010 he was honored as “Mayor of the Year” by the Pennsylvania Mayor's Association and was elected to the Pennsylvania State Senate to represent the 45th Senatorial District in parts of Allegheny and Westmoreland counties.

Jim’s connection to CCAC continues today, and he believes that having CCAC–South Campus is good for the Mon Valley, good for McKeensport, good for CaU and good for CCAC. Through his office, Jim hosts free student aid seminars to help families find grants and scholarships to help pay for higher education. Additionally, his wife, the former Linda Leah, is currently enrolled at CCAC. They have three daughters and five grandchildren.

County Council Honors Alumna with Proclamation

On Tuesday, February 21, Allegheny County Council honored Frances Kralosky Dice, a 1968 graduate of CCAC–Allegheny Campus, by presenting her with a proclamation during the body’s Regular Meeting of Council.

County Council members, including Hon. William Russell Robinson, chair of the CCAC Board of Trustees, and Charles Martoni, PhD, CCAC–Boyce Campus president, ('68 & '89, Boyce), sponsor proclamations to recognize the contributions of alumni who are dedicated to CCAC and the community. Fran was recognized for her many contributions to CCAC, including her service as a CCAC employee for the past 36 years.

A member of CCAC’s first graduating class, Fran earned her associate’s degree in English in 1968, followed shortly thereafter by a bachelor’s degree in English Literature from the University of Pittsburgh. After living and working in West Virginia for several years, Fran returned to Pittsburgh and CCAC in 1975 and began working as the director of Registration at CCAC–Allegheny Campus. She earned an MSBA at Robert Morris University in 1981. In 1999, she was named to her current position as CCAC’s assistant dean of Academic Management.

Deriving enjoyment from her work with CCAC students and staff, Fran notes that while the technology and tools have changed over the years, CCAC’s mission to serve students and change lives has remained true. She prides herself on having attended 36 commencements and notes that every student who walks across the stage has been changed and enriched by their time at CCAC. As an Alumni Board member, she loves

CCAC Alumni Connections via Social Media

Alumni Affairs has launched pages on both LinkedIn and Facebook in an effort to keep alumni connected with the college and fellow alumni. Membership is open to all CCAC Alumni, and we encourage alumni to log-in often to get the latest news on exciting happenings with alumni and at the college. Visit our website at www.ccac.edu/alumni and follow the links to CCAC Alumni’s Facebook and LinkedIn pages to get started.

CCAC on LinkedIn

Alumni Affairs’ LinkedIn profile connects alumni with more than 4,500 colleagues and fellow alumni through professional networking and discussions. The CCAC Alumni Affairs LinkedIn profile may be found at www.linkedin.com/in/ccaclumni.

CCAC on Facebook

In addition to the CCAC Alumni Affairs LinkedIn page, Alumni Affairs also encourages alumni on Facebook to like our Alumni Association page and friend us on our profile at CCAC Alum profile. With nearly 5,000 connections, Facebook is a great way to keep in touch with friends and fellow alumni.

In addition to the CCAC Alum page, Facebook users can also follow the CCAC Alumni Association fan page and the CCAC Nursing Alumni fan page.

Connect with Alumni through Social Media

In an attempt to connect with more of our alumni, the CCAC Alumni Program maintains a presence on several social media sites, including Facebook and LinkedIn. Alumni who are already Facebook users, or who are interested in registering for Facebook and adding CCAC Alumni as a friend, should visit the CCAC Alum profile. Facebook users can also follow the CCAC Alumni Association fan page.

Alumni may also follow us on the professional networking site LinkedIn. Alumni who are LinkedIn users, or who are interested in registering for LinkedIn and adding CCAC Alumni as a friend, can visit the CCAC Alumni profile on LinkedIn.

Alumni Affairs Partners with Harris Connect to Produce Alumni Directory

CCAC and the Office of Alumni Affairs are working to publish the first edition of CCAC Alumni Today. In addition to general alumni listings, the directory will contain memories and photos as well as personal notes to let friends and acquaintances know what’s happened since graduation. The directory will be a great opportunity to reconnect and network with old friends and the college, and will be available for purchase in both hard and electronic copies.

In partnership with Harris Connect Publishing Company, a mail and phone campaign has begun to gather alumni information such as graduation information, class year, college achievements and current career information. This publication will be created by alumni, for alumni and friends, so don’t miss out on this opportunity to be a part of this exciting project! More information can be found on the CCAC Alumni website at www.ccac.edu/alumni.

CCAC Commencement Ceremony

CCAC’s 2012 Commencement Ceremony will be held at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, May 22, at the David L. Lawrence Convention Center in Downtown Pittsburgh. Congratulations to our new alumni!

CCAC Alumni Night @ PNC Park

This summer, the CCAC Alumni Program will host a CCAC Alumni Night event at PNC Park on Pittsburgh’s North Shore. We welcome all CCAC alumni, their families and friends to see the Pittsburgh Pirates take on the Chicago Cubs at 7:05 p.m. on Saturday, May 26. Before the game, please join us for a tailgate reception at McFadden’s Restaurant beginning at 5:00 p.m.

Promotions for the game include a Zambelli Fireworks display following the game and Eat’n Park Scratch’n Win tickets. For the May 26 game, upper grandstand tickets will be available at the discounted rate of $9 per ticket.

The ticket order form is available at the end of the newsletter. Orders must be submitted by April 26. Individual orders that are collected and mailed in one envelope will be seated together. For questions contact Lauren Farrell at 412.325.4928 or e-mail lauren.farrell@pirates.com.

CCAC AlumLinks Online Mentoring Network

Calling all potential mentors!

In May 2007, Alumni Affairs and Job Placement and Career Services jointly launched CCAC AlumLinks, an online alumni mentoring network designed to provide CCAC alumni with the opportunity to mentor current CCAC student learners.

For students exploring career options and making career decisions, the most inspiring advice often comes from professionals working in the field. CCAC AlumLinks connects alumni with current CCAC students to help them develop their career goals and make more informed career decisions. Through the program, students connect with alumni mentors who help them explore career options, make career decisions and prepare for the work world.

Any alumnus interested in mentoring a student can visit the CCAC AlumLinks web page and follow the links to the secure website and register with the network by completing a mentoring profile. The online mentoring network password is AlumLinks.

CCAC AlumLinks was made available to students in June 2007 through Job Placement and Career Services. Any current CCAC students interested in working with an alumni mentor may register in the online mentoring network and search among registered mentors to find an alumnus whose experience matches their career interest.

CCAC Launches Imagine & Achieve Campaign

On February 13, CCAC launched the public phase of its Imagine & Achieve Campaign at the Downtown headquarters of PNC Bank. This comprehensive campaign is designed to fund a wide array of college-wide program and infrastructure initiatives, including the construction of the new K. Leroy Irvis Science Center now underway at CCAC–Allegheny Campus. The launch coincides with the news that the campaign has thus far been an overwhelming success, already surpassing the initial $30 million goal. Due to the early success, an additional stretch goal of $10 million has been added to bring the overall campaign goal to $40 million.

Dignitaries who participated in the event included Sy Holzer, campaign chair and president, PNC Bank–Pittsburgh; Thomas A. Christopher ('67 & '10), campaign national chair and CEO, Follett Higher Education Group; Hon. Rich Fitzgerald, Allegheny County executive; Hon. William R. Robinson, chair, CCAC Board of Trustees, member, CCAC Educational Foundation Board of Directors, and member, Allegheny County Council; Lawrence V. Gleason, president, CCAC Educational Foundation Board of Directors, wealth management advisor and vice president, Merrill Lynch; and Alex Johnson, president, CCAC.

When establishing the college’s Imagine & Achieve Campaign, CCAC sought to capitalize on the full range of funding opportunities available in both the private and public sectors. By following this national trend in fundraising, the campaign is able to leverage both funding sources to secure funds that might otherwise not be available. This strategic coordination enabled CCAC to meet its initial funding goal ahead of schedule.

CCAC Alumni Board Endows Alumni Scholarship

In an effort to create a lasting legacy at the college, and for the children and grandchildren of fellow CCAC Alumni, the Alumni Board set a goal at their July 2010 meeting to endow the Alumni Scholarship by the end of 2011.

In order to raise the $10,000 necessary to endow the scholarship, the Board focused its fundraising on many efforts—dinner at ELEVEN Restaurant, sales of CCAC Alumni baseball caps, raffle tickets, dues from the 2010 & 2011 CCAC Alumni Association, 2010 & 2011 Alumni Annual Fund contributions and contributions made by CCAC faculty and staff through the annual CCAC Family Campaign. At their September 2011 meeting, the Board was excited to announce that their fundraising goal to endow the scholarship was completed months ahead of schedule.

Endowing the scholarship ensures that it will continue under the auspices of the Educational Foundation in perpetuity. Though the Alumni Scholarship is now endowed, the Alumni Board will continue its efforts to raise money for the Alumni Scholarship. As the amount in the endowment increases, there will be an opportunity to increase the number of alumni scholarships awarded annually.

The CCAC Alumni Board thanks all CCAC Alumni and friends who, through their very generous contributions and support, helped the Alumni Board to bring their goal of endowing the Alumni Scholarship to fruition.

More information on the Alumni Scholarship can be found online.
CCAC Alumni Board Hosts Alumni Scholarship Recipients

On December 7, the CCAC Alumni Board hosted 2011–2012 Alumni Scholarship recipient Phyllis Anderson at a dinner in Byers Hall on CCAC–Allegheny Campus. In August, the Alumni Board selected three students as recipients of the Alumni Scholarship. The CCAC Alumni Scholarship is awarded annually to current students who are the children of CCAC alumni. The three student recipients, Phyllis Anderson, Mohamed Eshnuk and Christina Smith, each received a $1,000 scholarship, which will be divided between the fall 2011 and spring 2012 semesters. Phyllis is enrolled in the Business Management program at CCAC–Boyce Campus. Mohamed is enrolled in the Electrical Engineering program at CCAC–Allegheny Campus. Christina is majoring in Nursing at CCAC–North Campus. All three scholarship recipients anticipate graduating in 2013.

The Alumni Scholarship was established to fulfill the desire of CCAC graduates to help future generations of CCAC student learners. This effort focuses on aiding the children of CCAC alumni who are following in their parents’ footsteps by pursuing an education at CCAC. Scholarship monies may be used for expenses related to education such as tuition, fees and books.

“The CCAC Alumni Board was thrilled with the positive response and the talented students who applied for the Alumni Scholarship,” says CCAC Alumni Board President Betty Lyons (’93 & ’97). “Though the decision was difficult, we are very excited with this year’s awardees. Our goal is for this scholarship to help make it possible for more students to complete their education at CCAC, and that it encourages them to become active alumni both within the college and their community. The Alumni Board continues to raise funds in the hope that even more students can be awarded scholarships in the future.”
CCAC College Libraries

CCAC graduates are eligible to obtain a community library card that entitles them to use any of the libraries within the CCAC system. With this card, alumni can borrow books, journals and audiovisual materials. The library card can be purchased for $10 at any of the campus libraries and is good for one year. Alumni whose research skills are somewhat rusty may want to try out the library’s new online tutorial, i-CONNECT. This interactive tutorial will improve their ability to locate information. To gain a more comprehensive overview of the types of resources available at the various libraries—including hours of operation—visit the CCAC Library website today.

CCAC Annual Fund Supports Student Scholarships

CCAC’s mission is to provide affordable access to quality education. Each year, the college helps thousands of students reach a wide range of personal, professional and academic goals. Many CCAC students receive some form of financial assistance, and with the current economic conditions, increased costs and a decrease in public funding, the support of our alumni and friends is more important than ever. By donating to the 2012 CCAC Annual Fund, alumni can help CCAC continue providing students with a top-quality, accessible and affordable college education. Every dollar donated will help create opportunities for our students to succeed.

Gifts may be directed to one of the following areas: the CCAC Alumni Scholarship Fund, which provides financial assistance to the children and grandchildren of CCAC alumni; the GAP Scholarship Fund, which provides financial help to those not eligible for state or federal financial aid; or to the area of greatest need. To make a donation online, please visit www.ccac.edu/annualfund. Alumni who prefer to donate by check or money order can call 412.237.3033 or email alumni@ccac.edu to request an Annual Fund packet.

CCAC Educational Foundation Holds 2012 Scholarship Luncheon

The CCAC Educational Foundation hosted its annual scholarship luncheon on Tuesday, March 6, at the Sheraton Station Square Hotel, Pittsburgh. More than 700 students received scholarships through the foundation for the 2011–2012 school year. The luncheon provides a significant opportunity for the scholarship recipients to meet those who provided the gifts that helped make their education possible and gives donors a chance to hear firsthand how their gifts have changed students’ lives.

Phyllis Anderson, Mohamed Eshnuk and Christina Smith were the recipients of the CCAC Alumni Scholarship. Phyllis was this year’s student speaker at the event.

The CCAC Alumni Scholarship Fund was established to fulfill the desire of CCAC graduates to help future generations of CCAC students. This effort focuses on aiding the children of CCAC Alumni who are following in their parents’ footsteps by pursuing an education at CCAC. The fund awards up to three $1,000 scholarships annually ($500 for the fall semester and $500 for the spring semester). The awards may be used for education-related expenses such as tuition, fees and books.

Congratulations to all the scholarship winners! For additional information about CCAC scholarships, please visit the CCAC Educational Foundation website.
CCAC Educational Foundation Hosts Annual Legends in Leadership Gala

The CCAC Educational Foundation will be hosting its annual Legends in Leadership Gala on Thursday, April 19, at Heinz Field. The awards enable the CCAC community to recognize those who have made it possible to provide quality, accessible education to nearly 65,000 students annually. Since 1998, the Legends event has honored current students; former students; members of the faculty, staff and administration; and friends of the college.

This year’s community honorees are Arthur J. Rooney, II, president of the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Leo W. Gerard, international president of the United Steelworkers. The 2012 Outstanding Alumna awardee is Julie A. Caponi ('81), vice president, Internal Audit, Alcoa, Inc. The 2012 Outstanding Faculty/Staff/Administrator awardee is Janet J. Colville, project director, RN Achievement department head, Nursing, CCAC–Allegheny Campus, and professor of Nursing, CCAC–Allegheny Campus.

YWCA Honors CCAC-North Campus President

The YWCA of Greater Pittsburgh has honored Donna Imhoff, PhD, with a 2012 Tribute to Women Leadership Award in acknowledgement of her leadership to CCAC and the community. Created in 1983, the award has been presented to more than 200 women in the region.

Dr. Imhoff has been with CCAC for more than 25 years, including serving as CCAC–North Campus president since 2008 and as interim president of CCAC–Allegheny Campus since 2011. Congratulations, Donna!

CCAC Kicks Off “Big Read” Project

In March, CCAC began a month-long outreach program designed to promote literacy, reading and community engagement called “The Big Read in Pittsburgh.” The initial event was held March 4 at the August Wilson Center for African American Culture.

This year’s book selection is Zora Neale Hurston’s novel Their Eyes Were Watching God. Lucy Anne Hurston, the author’s niece, was the guest speaker. The project is made possible through a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts in partnership with Arts Midwest. For further information call 412.469.6301, email OneCollege@ccac.edu or visit www.ccac.edu, search keywords “Big Read 2012.”

Russell Scott ('85, Allegheny, Chef's Apprentice) was named dean of Education of The Culinary Institute of America (CIA) at Greystone in St. Helena, CA, effective April 2, 2012. Russell completed a BS in alternative medicine from Everglades University in 2010 and has been an executive chef at the Isleworth Golf and Country Club in Windermere, FL, the Hotel Nikko in Los Angeles, and the Virginia Country Club in Long Beach, CA. One of only 66 Certified Master Chefs in the United States, Russell was named the USA Chef of the Year in 2008 by the American Culinary Federation, who also honored him with a Chef Professionalism Award in 2011.

Jane Carr ('86, Boyce, Natural Sciences & '95, Boyce, Nursing) was recently named director of Clinical Services at AseraCare Hospice. Jane completed her Associate of Science degree in Nursing in 1995 and an associate’s degree in Math and Science in 1986, both at CCAC—Boyce Campus, and was a member of Phi Theta Kappa. She went on to earn a Bachelor of Science in nursing from The Pennsylvania State University. Jane is affiliated with the Hospice and Palliative Nurse Association, Pennsylvania Association of Directors of Nursing and Pennsylvania Association of Nurse Assessment Coordinators. She resides in Monroeville with her husband and two children.

Tom Martin ('02, Nuclear Medicine Technology) is currently a public policy PhD candidate at the University of Delaware, where his research interests include cost benefit analysis, cost utility analysis, and economic valuations of healthcare programs and projects. After completing his CCAC degree, Tom continued his education at Cleveland State University, earning a BS in biology in 2005 and an MBA at the University of Delaware in 2010. He currently works for the Health Information and Management Systems Society (HIMSS) in Washington, D.C., as the manager of the new mobile health-focused initiative called mHIMSS. His previous positions include roles with Siemens Medical in Australia and New Zealand and the Cleveland Clinic Foundation. His grandmother, Francis O’Malley, was employed at and retired from CCAC–South Campus.

Killeen Avila Martinez ('06, Allegheny, Massage Therapy) has recently received her Massage Therapist License from the state of Pennsylvania. A new requirement in the state, and an exciting event in the profession, licensure will bring new opportunities to the field. Killeen plans to study reflexology—the practice of applying pressure to the feet and hands utilizing specific techniques that work a physical change in the body. She is currently working as a massage therapist at Hats Off Hair Design in Ross Township.

Kevin Mosley ('09, Allegheny, Nuclear Medicine Technology) was recently accepted into the Master of Physician Assistant program at Chatham University. Kevin completed a BS in Nuclear Medicine Technology with a minor in Health Care Management online via the degree completion program at Siena Heights University in Spring 2011. During that time, Kevin worked on prerequisite and recommended courses for Physician Assistant programs at CCAC. He will complete an additional associate’s degree in Biology and an Honors degree from CCAC this spring.

Nathan Sudie ('10, South, Theatre) recently starred as Pontius Pilate in the Pittsburgh Musical Theater’s performance of Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice’s “Jesus Christ Superstar,” which ran at the Byham Theater through April 1. Nathan, who is a two-time Gene Kelly Award Best Actor nominee, is currently enrolled at Robert Morris University.

We are always seeking information from our alumni for our Class Notes section. Class Notes allow alumni to share news about a new addition to their family, a big promotion at work or their most memorable moments at CCAC. Class Notes may be posted on the CCAC Alum Facebook profile or can be emailed to alumni@ccac.edu.

Congratulations to Nancy Cullen ('76, Allegheny, Social Work Technician) who was the winner of the CCAC Alumni Association’s early membership renewal prize. Nancy’s name was drawn from a pool of Alumni Association members who returned their membership renewals prior to December 31, 2011. Nancy received a prize basket filled with CCAC merchandise.
